Yessische-Zeitung, commenting on the speech says: "Germany paid court to Russia, but Russia was clearly anti-German. Germany also, in turn courted England, France, Italy and America, but all these powers were equally averse to closer relations with Germany. This proves the fundamental defects of the German policy of the last eighteen years."

ATTENTIVE TO MRS. LONGWORTH.*King Edward Attended Reception in Honor of Americans.

London, June 13.—Seldom has the entertainment of the representative of any foreign government attracted more attention from the social, diplomatic and political world than the dinner and reception given by King Edward and Mrs. Reid at Dorchester house last night, for Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth and at which King Edward, by his presence and attention to President Roosevelt's daughter, marked his esteem for the United States and the chief executive. Park Lane in the vicinity of Dorchester house drew immense crowds as the carriages of distinguished guests passed through the fashionable thoroughfare to the residence which, since Mr. Reid took it a year ago, has welcomed the most famous Englishmen and visiting Americans and foreigners. Dinner was served on his left. There was a hall, which contains many valued paintings, for which Dorchester house is famous, and which no scheme of embellishment could improve. The table, however, stood out even amidst this grandeur by its simple but artistic arrangement of flowers and other varieties of orchids. King Edward took out Mrs. Reid, and at the King's desire Mrs. Longworth was seated at the other side of him, thus taking precedence of the duchesses. Ambassador Reid escorted the duchesses of Marlborough, with the Duchess of Bedford on his left. There was a formal dinner at purely English functions attended by the King, who was technically for the time on American soil. Dinner over, King Edward received the members of the embassy staff who did not attend the dinner.

GREAT COLLEGE GAME.*Took Bowdoin 12 Innings to Beat Tufts, 2 to 1.

It was the last game for Tufts, but Sparks was to much for them and they could not get the needed hits. The game was a pitchers' battle between Watson of Tufts and Sparks of Bowdoin, and to Watson belongs the honors. For 12 innings he did not commit a misplay. Not a man walked, while 11 were retired on strikes. Besides this he allowed but seven hits for a total of seven bases, while Sparks was connected with for eight hits for a total of 12 bases.

The secret of Bowdoin's victory was bunching of four hits in the 11th and 12th innings, which netted the two runs. The Tufts batsmen, on the other hand, could not hit Sparks consecutively. Sparks gave five passes, while a wild pitch aided the Tufts team to score their only run.

There were a dozen persons on the runaway car and they got out of it with only a jolt. The brakes of the electric car refused to hold when it reached Coral street on the run into the city from Grafton, and as it slid down the hill, gaining velocity at every yard, motorman Bennett could do nothing but yell to people to get out of the way. The impact stopped the runaway, and tossed the passengers around some, but the only person who was hurt was motorman Bennett, who got off with a slight injury to his leg.

SAD ENDING
OF OUTING*Four High School Boys
Drowned Yesterday*OF BREWER, MAINE SCHOOL*They Were to Have Received Their Diplomas on Friday Evening of This Week—Now There Will Be No
Graduating Exercises.

Bangor, Me., June 13.—Lamont Parker, aged 18 years; Winfield Brown, 18; Lawrence Aiken, 20, and Norman Herick, 18, members of the graduating class of Brewer high school, capsized in a sailboat at Hines' pond in Orrington, yesterday, and went down before help could reach them.

With 15 other members of the senior class, they went on a picnic to the pond yesterday. Three boys and girls embarked in a sailboat for the clubhouse, on the opposite shore, some of the rest of the party crossing in a rowboat, and two of the boys in a canoe. The girls landed from the sailboat, after which the three boys were joined by one of those in the skiff and all four set out to the center of the pond to fish.

Half a mile out a squall struck the boat and capsized it. Two of the boys attempted to swim ashore and the others clung to the boat, which went down a few moments later, carrying the boys with it in full view of those on shore, who were now powerless to help. The swimmers became exhausted and also went down.

The spectators of the tragedy had to walk around the lake to the opposite shore, a distance of two miles, through the woods, then driving a mile and a half to the nearest telephone, to notify the boys' parents.

S. S. Herrick, a prominent South Brewer merchant, father of one of the victims, searched vainly for the bodies. Three coats and only two caps were picked up.

The accident has cast a gloom over the entire city, the boys being among the most popular in the school. Principal Clifford H. Preston stated that on account of the accident there would be no graduating exercises. The class, numbering 21, were to receive their diplomas on Friday evening and were planning to drap the seat of one deceased member in black.

Miss Lizzie Edwards of Newfane died May 25 from the effects of injuries suffered about eight months ago. She was struck down by a heavy hammock post, which had been, as was supposed, thoroughly tested, and her head so far bent forward as to cause a stretching or tearing of the spinal cord, never precisely ascertained, but certain in the resulting paralysis below that point, though there was pain also, a drawing up toward the back of the legs, without power to straighten. Several physicians were called in counsel, and the case attracted wide notice.

OBSERVE FLAG DAY.*Tomorrow, June 14, Should Be Object Lesson in Patriotism.

At the nineteenth national convention of the ladies of the G. A. R., it was recommended that they support the efforts and co-operate with the Grand Army in the whole matter of patriotic education. It is our earnest desire to instill in the minds of the children what the civil war veterans have implanted by acts. We cannot place too high an estimate on the value of teaching patriotism. It was recommended that the fourteenth day of June be recognized as "flag day," to be observed annually in the display of the United States flag, at their dwellings and places of business, to commemorate the birthday of the flag on the date of its adoption by Congress, June 14, 1777. Even boys and girls, though their influence may not be great, may be something to show their public spirit. Let us see to it that we uphold its banner.

This question is asked: "Why should the flag of such a country be called 'Old Glory'?" Because it is twenty-three years older than the present flag of Great Britain, seventeen years older than the French tri-color, more than one hundred years older than the present flags of Germany and Italy and eight years older than the flag of Spain. This flag representing a nation of eighty millions of people stands for independence, dignity and power. It has been storm-tossed with ship and shell and torn to tatters in a hundred battles, but has always waved for freedom. It stands now for a united people. It is beloved in every section of our territory and when it waves aloft it is all one to us whether the hand plays 'Yankee Doodle' or 'Dixie'.

legates Not Instructed.

The Republicans of Woodbury, which was perhaps the only town in the state not to hold a Republican caucus on Saturday, June 9, met yesterday afternoon and elected H. F. Drennan and Joseph Teltman as delegates to both the state and the district convention. They were not instructed but are for Gordon for Congress, Proctor for governor and E. H. Deavitt of Montpelier for state treasurer. The reason for the lateness of the caucus was because the Republicans thought that inasmuch as they hadn't voted for the use of a check list the caucus would not be governed by the caucus law.

The Plainfield delegates to the district convention, although not instructed are favorable to Gordon for Congress.
